of Definitive

"The Chamber also approved the complementary agreement making the Pilcomayo river the definite boundary between Argentina and Paraguay, and the special additional protocol with the final report of the Mixed Commission, dated Aug. 16, 1944, as well as the definitive topographical map of the Pilcomayo area between (Salto, Palmar) and Punto Horqueta (as received--Ed.) signed in Buenos Aires on July 1, 1945.

"Both matters were (announced in dispatches to Diaz Vivar, who expressed his satisfaction) with the agreement, which settles one of the last questions of such a nature which the Republic has pending."
